COMMERCIAL.

HONOLULU, AUGUST 24, 1886. Since last writing there has been no change in the aspects of business, the same inharmy being noticed in lines of retail trade as previously mentioned and the prospects still point towards continued duliness the prespects still point towards continued delinese in the near fature.

Commercially trade has not brightened any although the exhibit of any particularly noticeable activity in commercial lines at the present season would be regarded as somewhat phenomenal had, therefore, the present quietude is looked upon as a matter of course.

An extensive credit sale by Messes, Hackfeld & Co., during the week has been to an extent a ripple upon the otherwise placid face of business matters and the results have been quite satisfactory to the sellers. Mr. Morgan of E. P. Adams & Co., superintended the sale. The arrivals since has writing consist of the bark Discovery and shamers Australia and Wainleale, the latter another addition to our consting vessels, and all from San Francisco. The departures consist of the barkentine Ella and term Eva for San Francisco, laden with domestic products, both vessels having received with domestic products, both vessels having received quick dispatch. The steamer Australia brings news dates to the Thi Inst. The Mararon will be due from the South on the ISth Inst.

A Birthday Celebration.

On Thursday last F. A. Schaefer, Esq., Dean of the Consular Corps, and for 29 years a leading merchant in this city, entertained a number of friends to lunch at the British Club. The event celebrated was the fiftieth anniversary of the birth of the host. The lunch was a decided success and was done ample justice to by the guests. The Hon. C. B. Bishop in a must speech proposed the health of the host, alluding to the long friendship which steems every one present had had with Mr. Schnefe. of to the high esteem and regard in which he was beid by all his fellow eitizens. The toast was received with entire lasm and a stanza in German was sung in honor of the event, fol-lowed shortly after by the old English "He's a jully good fallow." Mr. Schnefer responded in priate terms, thanking his friends for the terms in which they spoke of him and hoping that the friendship might last for a long time. After a couple of hours speut in social that the party broke up. The GAZETTE wishes Mr. Schaefer many a long year's enjoyment of life and trusts that no clouds may mar any portion of his coming

A Neat Estate

Dr. McGrew has a very pretty property at Ewa. A GAZETTE representative rode down with the genial doctor the other day and had a look over it. The estate, which numbers some 800 acres, is situated about nine miles from town and extends from the shore to the road. The soil is magnificent, a the shore to the road. The soil is magnificent, a fine, rich, brown loam, and capable, with water, of raising almost any crop desired. Seeing this the doctor sank an artesian well, which at first did not prove a success, owing to defective piping. The MoCandless Brothers undertook to make the well tight and they have succeeded. Even with the had leak there was a fine stream of water, but now the stream has almost quadrupled. The work that these young men put in deserves commendation, in as much as they knew nothing of what tion, in as much as they knew nothing of what their predecessor had done and were working in the dark. Success has crowned their efforts; the pipe is on hard rock and the doctor can now com-mense his improvements.

The land can be used for many purposes. The doctor can of course build himself a comfortable residence, but there is ample toom for a series of cottages, and in fact the place seight be made a very pleasant sea-side resort. A wharf might be run into the bay and a bath house built which would make excellent bathing accommodation. The doctor proposes to put in a pipe from the artesian well to the bath house when it is built. Besides using the land for villa residences, some of it can be put late rice, now that there is an abundance of water.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—The final report of the com-mission appointed by the English Conservative Government in 1886, to inquire into the causes of depression of trade will soon be issued. The re-port will announce that the commission has not found any evidence of depression as regards the restriction of trading operations. The volume of British trade has increased more than commensurably with the growth of population. The low prices and the consequent diminished profit constitute the only evidence of depression. There has been a greatly prolonged period of over-production owing in part to the increase of multiduction, owing in part to the increase of wealth in the country. The commission does not believe that legislation regarding labor has injured trade, and deprecates an increase in the number of hours of labor and a dimunition of wages. The report distinctly favors trades unions.

In consequence of this the British Gov-erument in India has decided to intrust the su-preme command in Burmah to Major General Sir Herbert Macpherson, Commander-in-Chief at Madras. Five thousand troops will be sent into the country as soon as the cold season commences, to scour the country and drive out and subdue the insurgents and one thousand additional police will be sent to India to maintain order. Colonel Frederick A. Stanley, President of the Board of Trade in the new Cabinet, has been raised to the peerage.

The labor troubles in Holland are much more serious than is generally known. Dutch capitalists are seeking investments abroad. Probably the disturbances are reflections of those which have already affected Belgium. They are instiguted by anarchists and socialists who flock to the low countries from all over Europe, attracted by the comparitively liberal laws.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simia, January 5, 1880. To J. T. Davenport Esq., 35, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbary, London, Dear Sir.—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the wide-spread reputation this justiff esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chierodyne, has earned for Itself, not only in Hindestan, but all over the East. As a remedy for general utility, we must question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to he narry its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian hame. The other brands, we are say to say are now relegated to the native bazars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their solourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances and infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhea and Dysoutery Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Yomiting of Pregnancy and as a general seciative, that have occured under our personal observation during many years. In Cholerate Diarrhea, and even in the more tearlief forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed less surprisingly controlling power. We have not read any other form of this medicine than Ostils Browne's from a firm Conviction that the substitution of any other form of this medicine than Ostils Browne's from a firm Conviction that the substitution of any other form of this Browne's is a Delineart Describer American Street and also from a sense of daty we ose to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other fam Collis Browne's is a Delineart Describer American Street and Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was, indoubtedly, the Inventor of Chlorodyne; that the stary of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrae, which, he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See 'The Times,' July 13, 1864.
